MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of Ner Israel Rabbinical College is to train our students to become outstanding Talmidei Chachomim (Sages) who through their knowledge, teaching and steadfast commitment to Torah (Jewish Law) and Mitzvos (Jewish obligations), will pass on our Mesorah (Jewish Heritage) to the next generation. We teach the skills of Talmudic Torah scholarship and encourage the centrality of Torah centered Jewish living. It is our belief that all will be more successful at their chosen course, due to this education. Whatever career path our students chose, they will serve in those roles better and be active members of their communities because of their Yeshiva educational experience.

OVERVIEW

The Ner Israel Rabbinical College was founded in Baltimore in 1933, and received its charter under the laws of the State of Maryland on August 31, 1934. The fundamental aim of Ner Israel Rabbinical College is to teach young men the skills required for in-depth study of the Talmud, which is the source of the Halacha (legal framework of Judaism). The Talmud also provides the moral, philosophical and theological underpinnings of the Jewish religion. Knowledge of the Talmud, therefore, is the sine qua non for the understanding and transmission of authentic Judaism.

The historical role of a rabbinical college (Yeshiva) has always been to produce scholars able to master the teachings of our people and qualified to pass their learning on to the next generation. It must also produce men capable of deciding questions in both Torah Law and philosophy. Such men must have deep familiarity with all facets of Torah and be immersed in the historical traditions of how to apply the principles and rules of the Torah to situations that arise out of ever-changing circumstances and developing technologies. The role of the Yeshiva has come to include a broader goal of educating and producing knowledgeable professionals to be able to take leadership roles in their communities.

These formidable tasks can only be accomplished by having the primary focus of Ner Israel geared to the teaching of skills needed to develop a clear understanding of the fundamental concepts and system of logic of the Talmud.

Rabbi Jacob I. Ruderman
Dean and founder,
Ner Israel Rabbinical College

Our faculty is composed of world-renowned Talmudic scholars who were invited to join Ner Israel in recognition of their scholarship and their ability to guide and teach future leaders. These outstanding teachers and role models do not limit themselves to classroom instruction, but constantly seek opportunities to help their students, both on the individual and the group level. They encourage and inspire their students to pursue their scholastic goals to the limit of their individual abilities.

Ner Israel has achieved international recognition for the quality of its training. Graduates of Ner Israel serve with distinction as rabbis, educators and administrators in their respective communities throughout the United States and abroad.

We take particular pride in our exceptionally strong emphasis on teaching communal responsibility. Ner Israel strives to imbue its students and graduates with a sense of obligation to involve them in some capacity, wherever possible, in making a positive contribution to the community in which they live and function.

This sense of responsibility is emphasized both in our formal teaching and in Ner Israel's activities. Our students are fully aware of the personal involvement of our faculty and staff in communal issues of both global concern and local impact.

Ner Israel works with numerous fine secular educational institutions in the Baltimore metropolitan area to offer students the opportunity to attend undergraduate and graduate courses at the evening sessions of these universities.

THE CAMPUS

Ner Israel is fortunate to be situated on the ninety-acre Beren campus in the sprawling hills of suburban Baltimore. It is a unique community that allows our students to live and function in close proximity to their teachers. The students know that they can avail themselves of the personal interest and counsel of their mentors whenever needed. They are also privileged to observe beautifully flourishing families that are role models for them to emulate.

The focal point of the campus is the Tanenbaum Bais Hamedrash (study center). Completed in 1980, the structure is a combination study hall and library. The Israel Henry Beren Learning Center affords us additional classroom and library space to accommodate the growth of both our student body and our library collection.

A substantial portion of the library collection, which in total contains over 35,000 volumes encompassing the breadth of Torah commentaries and Talmudic research, is shelved in the Bais Hamedrash, with the balance of the collection housed in the Learning Center. The library's open stacks and lengthy hours afford our students easy access to core works written by Jewish scholars throughout the ages. Many major volumes of responsa, in addition to more current publications in Talmudic research, are at the researcher's fingertips.

Portion of the library available in the Tanenbaum

The Beren Learning Center also contains a separate audio library. It houses a vast collection of recorded lectures given in Ner Israel by members of our faculty and lectures delivered by other contemporary scholars during the past thirty years. Well over five thousand audio files are listed in the catalog. A project to digitize this library is now underway.

Other buildings on campus include the Harry Beren Administration Building, which houses Ner Israel's administrative offices, and the Sindler and Wolf dining halls, with facilities to serve over 2500 meals per day. There is also an executive dining suite, used for public relations and fund-raising affairs.

In addition, there is the Hurwitz Educational Building, which contains two additional study halls, classrooms and lecture halls equipped with audiovisual facilities. There are three dormitories, which provide spacious housing for the students. The lower level of the Kolker Dormitory is furnished with a canteen, laundry, and dry-cleaning facilities. Athletic fields and basketball courts afford our students recreational facilities.

Every effort is made to accommodate any handicap student who is admitted to the institution.

Therefore, we have upgraded or built most of the building on campus to be handicap accessible.

On campus faculty housing allows our faculty, and many married students, to reside on campus. They are housed in a neighborhood that includes eight three-story apartment buildings, each containing 12 units, and 18 six-bedroom townhouses.

Our campus is located at:

ACCREDITATION

Ner Israel Rabbinical College is accredited by the Association of Advanced Rabbinical and Talmudic Schools (AARTS). The Association of Advanced Rabbinical and Talmudic Schools (AARTS) is located at 11 Broadway Suite 405 New York, New York 10004, 212-363-1991. Our undergraduate accreditation applies to our Bachelor of Talmudic Law Degree. A copy of the Letter of Certification is available in the administration building during normal business hours.

STATE LICENSURE

Ner Israel Rabbinical College is licensed by the State of Maryland to confer the degrees of Bachelor, Master and Doctor of Talmudic Law in addition to Rabbinic Ordination. A copy of the license is available in the administration building during normal business hours.

Rav Yaakov Moshe Kulefsky, Zt"l

ADMISSIONS

A formal application must be submitted to Ner Israel. An application can be requested by calling the office (443-548-6079) or emailing admissions@nirc.edu. The completed application should be addressed to Rabbi Beryl Weisbord, Dean of Admissions, and sent to:

Mail: Ner Israel Rabbinical College
400 Mount Wilson Lane
Baltimore, MD 21208

Fax:410-484-3060

Email:admissions@nirc.edu

Online: <https://nirc.edu/yeshivaapplicationform/>

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

Students applying to Ner Israel Rabbinical College must be high school graduates. In addition, they should have adequate preparation in Talmudic and related studies. The following are the minimum requirements:

Talmud: The ability to independently comprehend basic Talmudic text and the completion of 50 folios of Talmud with the commentary of Rashi.

Bible: A thorough knowledge of the Pentateuch and substantial parts of the Prophets and Hagiographa.

Language: The ability to read and write classical Hebrew; a working knowledge of the Aramaic language of the Talmud.

All applicants for admission are required to report for a personal interview and evaluation at Ner Israel, as personality and character are important factors in determining the eligibility of the prospective student.

IMMUNIZATIONS

Maryland state law requires all students residing on campus to be vaccinated for meningitis or to complete an exemption waiver. Forms for this purpose are available in the administration building during normal business hours.

TRANSFER CREDITS

Credits may be granted, at the discretion, of Ner Israel for courses taken at another postsecondary institution of Talmudic Studies providing the following stipulations are met:

The credits transferred must be based on course work similar in content, style and academic rigor to the one offered at Ner Israel. The student must have achieved a grade that would have enabled him to pass a similar course at Ner Israel. All credits must be properly documented. Transfer credits accepted are counted towards the number of attempted credits and the number of credits earned by the student. It is the student / applicant's responsibility to contact his previous school to have them submit to the registrar an official record of his previous scholastic work for evaluation.

Decisions regarding transfer credits are subject to the same appeals process described below (page 33).

FINANCIAL AID

Both students and their parents are expected to participate to the best of their ability in financing their education. However, Ner Israel believes that qualified applicants should not be denied the opportunity to attend Ner Israel because of limited financial resources. Ner Israel, therefore, maintains a financial aid office to assist eligible students to the maximum extent within the limits of the resources available. Any student who is unable to pay full tuition may discuss his situation with the Financial Aid Administrator. The student is encouraged to file the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid), and the institution's Application for Financial Assistance. These forms are available from the Financial Aid Office. Institutional scholarships are available for students with financial needs. The Financial Aid Office staff can help students and parents fill out the forms correctly, thus avoiding delays in the processing of the forms. Students are encouraged to take advantage of this service, during regular office hours. The office is located in room 76 of the administration building. The current Financial Aid administrator is Shmuel (Steven) Schachter and he can be reached at 443-548-6055 or at finaid@nirc.edu.

An applicant for financial aid from Ner Israel will be apprised of the cost of attendance, all available sources of financial aid, and all other aspects of the financial aid package awarded, including disbursement of the aid. In addition, he will be apprised of the academic criteria of the Yeshiva and will be able to personally meet with the financial aid officer who has determined his need.

The student's responsibilities include applying for aid before the deadline, maintaining satisfactory academic progress, and reporting all outside awards and any change in family or student financial status to the Financial Aid Office.

Eligibility for Federal Financial Aid is determined by a process called packaging. The student's expected family contribution (EFC, determined by the Federal Processor) is subtracted from the student's total budget, and the student's need is determined. This concept of "need" is the foundation of financial aid. Students exhibiting need and who apply on time will have priority consideration for all aid programs.

The expected family contribution consists of the parental contribution plus the student contribution. The parental contribution is the amount that the parents are expected to pay, based on their income and available assets. Allowances are made for expenses such as support of the family according to its size, and the number of children in college. Under extraordinary circumstances, allowances can be made for documented expenses such as elementary and high school tuition paid, and medical bills.

We expect the student to contribute toward his education using his prior year and summer earnings, if applicable. The student's assets are generally considered to be available for his education and are expected to be divided among his years of post-secondary education.

Various federal financial aid programs are available to eligible students at Ner Israel. These are described in detail under the next heading, "Federal Student Aid Programs."

FEDERAL STUDENT AID PROGRAMS

All students wishing to apply for any form of federal aid must complete the FAFSA, and submit it by June 30th at the end of the school year. For dependent students, the applicant and his parents must provide information. Independent students do not need parental information.

Note: While we believe the following information is accurate as of the date of publication, please keep in mind that federal regulations are constantly changing. Please contact the Financial Aid Office for the latest information.

The Federal Pell Grant Program provides undergraduates with outright grants that do not need to be repaid. Eligibility, as determined by the processing of the FAFSA, will be reported to the student in an SAR (Student Aid Report). Current grants range between $639 and $6,345.

The Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) Program is a federal need-based grant program that supplements the Pell Grant. Money is allocated based on school selected criteria. For the current school year, awards are based on EFC. In order to be considered for the FSEOG, the application should be processed by October 1. Any other funds will be awarded on a first come, first served basis. The average award is $1,600.

The Federal Work Study. The Federal Work Study Program is an employment program. Funds are allocated to schools as part of the campus-based programs as explained above. Eligible students are offered part-time employment. The Financial Aid Office, in conjunction with the academic staff, determines through an interview if a student is eligible for employment, based on his abilities to fulfill his academic responsibilities with the added burden of employment. Employment is also contingent on student qualifications of the positions available.

Federal Work Study disbursements are in the form of payrolls, distributed monthly during the duration of the of the student's work schedule, until the allocated funds are exhausted. The institution pays a percentage of matching funds for each federal dollar of Work Study. The institutional portion may be paid to the student or may be credited to the student's tuition account. For current years the funds are matched 25% institutional to 75% federal.

The Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP) includes the following loans: Federal Direct Stafford Loans are moderate interest loans available through Department of Education. Interest is not charged while a student remains enrolled at an eligible post-secondary institution. Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loans in which interest does accrue while the student attends school, are available for those students whose needs are not met by the Subsidized Stafford loan. Federal PLUS loans are unsubsidized loans made to parents. All parents are eligible for this loan, regardless of the need.

VERIFICATION

Applications for Federal Financial Aid may be selected for verification of various items before disbursement of aid. All federal student aid programs are affected by verification:

Pell Grant - A valid Student Aid Report (SAR) must be received by the last date of enrollment.

Stafford Loan - Ner Israel cannot make any disbursements until verification is complete. We must receive the requested verification documentation within 120 days from the last date of enrollment.

Campus-Based (Perkins Loan, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal College Work-Study) - Verification must be completed within 120 days from the last date of enrollment.

We will not disburse any Federal Aid until verification is complete.

We will notify the student that verification is complete, generally within two weeks of submission. Any revisions to the awards will be reflected on the Financial Aid Adjusted Award Letter.

Items that we verify:

Income information for tax filers

- Adjusted Gross Income (AGI)
- U.S. Income Tax Paid.
- Untaxed Portions of IRA Distributions.
- Untaxed Portions of Pensions.
- IRA Deductions and Payments.
- Tax Exempt Interest Income.
- Education Credits.
- Number of Household Members
- Number in College

Income information for nontax filers

- Income earned from work.
- Number of Household Members
- Number in College

For certain selected students:

- High School Completion Status
- Identity/Statement of Educational Purpose

More information about the verification process can be obtained in the Financial Aid Office.

Aid received from any of the Federal programs must be used only for educational purposes.

No payment of student financial aid funds will be made if the student is in default on a federal student loan or owes an obligation to a federal student grant program.

Students must carry at least a half-time academic load (six credits per semester) and be enrolled in an approved degree or certificate program of study to receive financial aid. In addition, the student must make measurable progress toward the degree, and remain in good academic standing.

Financial aid funds (except FWS) are disbursed directly to the student's tuition account. We will disburse one half the entire annual award during the fall semester and the balance of the award at the beginning of the spring semester. FWS is disbursed monthly on or about 15th of the month following employment.

Students have a right to appeal financial aid decisions to the President. All appeals must be filed in writing.

Students must reapply for financial aid at the beginning of each academic year and must conform to published deadline dates.

The time period for submitting documentation is 120 days from the end of enrollment. The consequence of failing to submit documentation is not being eligible for federal aid, although they still can be eligible for institutional aid.

If there would be an instance of suspected financial aid fraud that a student is involved in, a complaint will be filed online at: <https://oighotlineportal.ed.gov/eCasePortal/> which is the Office of Inspector General at the Department of Education.

Students not maintaining SAP (Satisfactory Academic Progress) will not be eligible for aid. Once SAP has been achieved aid will be reinstated. For further information, please refer to the section on Satisfactory Academic Progress (page 31).

MARYLAND STATE SCHOLARSHIPS

A student who is a Maryland resident and wishes to be considered for a Maryland State Scholarship must file his Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) by the deadline set by the State, generally March 1, for the upcoming school year. For answers to questions concerning state grants, call the Maryland Higher Education Commission at (410) 767-3300 during regular business hours.

The state offers several scholarships. The most common are as follows:

Educational Assistance Grant – Low-income grant for students who maintain a ‘C’ average in school.

Guaranteed Access Grant – Four year grant for graduates of Maryland high schools that will pay up to the cost of education at University of Maryland less the Pell Grant. A ‘C’ average must be maintained. Family must be eligible for the free lunch program.

Senatorial and Delegate scholarships – Disbursed by the student’s state senator or delegate. An application should be requested from their office.

Detailed instructions on how to apply may be found on Maryland Higher Education Commission website <https://mhec.state.md.us/Pages/default.aspx> or by calling (410) 767-3300 during regular business hours.

INSTITUTIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS

In addition to the programs listed above, Ner Israel offers an institutional scholarship program. This program allows the tuition committee to help those students who are either not receiving any funding from the above sources, or at the discretion of the committee, not receiving enough funding to allow them to continue their education. If a FAFSA has not been submitted the family is asked to fill out a short one page, 2-sided form asking general questions about the family’s financial situation. The committee is made up of several members, of which Rabbi Boruch Neuberger is the head of the committee and can be reached by email (byn@nirc.edu) or phone (443-548-6060) to discuss decisions of the committee.

AVAILABILITY OF FULL TIME EMPLOYEE TO ASSIST ENROLLED AND PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

Ner Yisroel has designated Shmuel Schachter, Financial Aid Administrator, as the full-time employee available to assist enrolled and prospective students in obtaining information on financial aid programs available, criteria for eligibility, and procedure for applying for financial aid, cost of attendance, retention rates, completion and transfer rates, institutional security and crime statistics, and all required disclosures and information, as required by 668.42, 668.43, 668.45 and 668.46 of the Code of Federal Regulations. He can be found in the administrative offices during regular business hours.

RETURN OF TITLE IV FUNDS

For all students who withdraw during a semester, the institution performs an R2T4 calculation utilizing the Return to Title IV software provided by the U.S. Department of Education.

The withdrawal date used to calculate the Title IV refund will be determined as follows:

For a student who gives official notification, the date of withdrawal is the date that the student indicates in his notice or the date of notification, whichever is earlier.

Each semester, there is a one-time enrollment confirmation roster generated by the registrar's office and circulated to the faculty to be completed at the point in time when 60% of the semester has passed. This roster enables the school to determine whether or not the student who withdraws without giving official notification has attended 60% of the semester. A student who is not in attendance at that 60% point is determined to have withdrawn at the midpoint of the semester.

Generally, if a student officially withdraws before 60% of the semester has passed, he will be able to retain a prorated portion of the financial aid awarded. If he withdraws after 60% of the semester has passed he will be able to retain all of the financial aid he has been awarded. Students who withdraw after the 60% point will still have a Return to Title IV calculation performed to determine if they qualify for post withdrawal disbursements.

If the calculation on the U.S. Department of Education's R2T4 system results in the need to return funds to the Title IV programs, funds will be returned to the various federal financial aid programs according to the following order:

- (i) Unsubsidized Federal Direct Stafford loans
- (ii) Subsidized Federal Direct Stafford loans
- (iii) Federal Perkins loans.
- (iv) Federal Direct PLUS received on behalf of the student

If unearned funds remain to be returned after repayment of outstanding loan amounts, the remaining excess will be returned to the following program in the following order:

- (i) Federal Pell Grants.
- (ii) FSEOG

Any funds that need to be returned to a lender will be returned by the school on behalf of the student. The student will receive notification that the funds have been returned. The student already provided authorization for this return of funds when applying for a loan.

Refunds and returns of Title IV funds will be made within forty-five days of the date of determination that a student has withdrawn. Cash refunds to students will be made within fourteen days from the date that a credit balance occurs as a result of the refund calculation. Students will be notified if any of the funds that had been disbursed directly to them need to be returned as a result of the student's withdrawal. The students are advised of their responsibility to return funds and are notified in writing if a refund calculation produces an amount of unearned funds that must be returned by the student. The procedure for returning the funds will be outlined in the notification.

The institution will calculate and disburse any post withdrawal disbursements that the student is eligible for. Post Withdrawal disbursements that are used to pay institutional costs will be disbursed within 180 days of the date of determination of withdrawal, and post withdrawal disbursements that are paid directly to students will be disbursed within forty five days of the date of the date of determination of the student's withdrawal.

Refund and Return of Title IV fund calculations are quite complicated. Illustrative examples of refund calculations are available at the financial aid office.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

INTRODUCTION

Following the tradition of the great citadels of higher learning that existed in Eastern Europe before the Holocaust, the curriculum offered by the Ner Israel Rabbinical College is focused primarily on Talmudic study

Students entering Ner Israel directly out of high school or transferring from other postsecondary institutions are exposed to a rigorous course of study in Talmud and related courses. By the time these students graduate from Ner Israel, they have been transformed into emerging Talmudic scholars by virtue of a demanding academic curriculum and a preeminent faculty.

The skills cover a broad range including: advancing language aptitudes in Aramaic and Loshon Kodesh; teaching the close examination of ancient/ medieval scholarly texts; contextual thinking and analysis of contrasting opinions and concepts; interpretive reasoning; structured communication; problem solving; creative application of legal principles; understanding abstract thinking; conceiving theories and evaluating chains of logic; applying legal principles to real life cases; retaining large amounts of scholarship with precision.

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE – BACHELOR OF TALMUDIC LAW (BTL)

Ner Israel offers a four year undergraduate program culminating in a Bachelor of Talmudic Law (BTL). Ner Israel assumes that many of its undergraduates will proceed on to graduate degree program in Talmudic studies. Following a time honored tradition; these students will generally dedicate themselves to their studies for six years or more.

MORNING CURRICULUM – TALMUD INTENSIVE AND TALMUD LAW COURSES

Following the pattern of most American Talmudic colleges, the Ner Israel curriculum is focused primarily on the study of Talmud. Advanced study of the Talmud at Ner Israel follows the classic 'Lithuanian' model, the hallmark of the great Yeshivas that existed in Lithuania. In this model, the Bais Medrash, or Talmudic study hall, becomes the crucible in which the budding Talmudic scholar is formed. Generally a student will spend a minimum of 6 hours each day in structured Bais Medrash learning, as well as additional time in Shiurim (lectures). Clearly, the total number of hours spent on Talmudic study at Ner Israel far exceeds the standard definition of credit hours in American universities.

The method of instruction combines both Shiurim and Chavrusa learning. In the Chavrusa system, two students are paired as learning partners for a full semester. This Chavrusa study is a full partnership where the Chavrusa pair engages in animated joint study of their total curricula.

A daily Shiur, or faculty lecture, is the focus of the Chavrusa learning and its influence permeates the Chavrusa study as well. Chavrusa study generally begins with a preliminary reading of the Talmudic texts of a Sugya (topic) called a Laining. This is then followed with a rudimentary analysis of the Talmudic logic of the Sugya. After this background learning, the Chavrusa pair is charged to prepare for the daily Shiur (lecture) and then review it after it is delivered.

After the Laining, preparing for a specific Shiur is accomplished by a more critical reading of the specifically selected text and then carefully reviewing the supplemental references and background materials prepared by the Rebbe, or lecturer, in advance. After the Shiur, the Chavrusa pair reviews the contents of the Shiur in a very intense and comprehensive manner. They will review, probe and debate the logic of the Shiur presentation and try to clarify between themselves any areas of ambiguity. Almost always, the Rebbe himself is available for the Seder, or Chavrusa study period, to engage with his students in their review and debate. This very hands-on give and take between Rabbayim (instructors) and Talmidim (students) is a hallmark of Talmudic study.

This Talmud Intensive course is a standard requirement of all undergraduate students each semester. This course includes an intensive morning course in Talmud with its centerpiece being the daily Shiur, and review time that the student must do on his own.

The time-honored method of study of the Talmud is one where the most advanced experts and the beginners all focus on the same material and their understanding of it. Thus, the same tractate of Talmud is studied in Ner Israel in the undergraduate program along one of four levels (corresponding to the 100, 200, 300 and 400 level courses. The basic Talmud text is not studied in isolation, but in parallel with the commentaries expanding the passage and the Code of Law evolving from the outcome of the Talmudic discussion. Study of the Bible follows the same logical pattern. Because the Talmud itself includes a commentary on the laws of the Pentateuch, a thorough knowledge of Bible is required to understand the Talmud. The students therefore study a correlated curriculum with courses in Talmud, Commentaries, Codes, and Bible. This system follows the tradition of the great centers of higher Jewish learning that existed in Eastern Europe before the Holocaust.

In assigning grades, the Rebbe will evaluate the totality of the student's participation and accomplishment in the entire correlated curriculum. The Rebbe will assess the quality and quantity of a student's participation and accomplishment in Chavrusa study, as well as in the Shiur. Attendance and effort will also play a role. Various test and quizzes may be given by the Rebbe through the semester.

LEVEL ONE

In the first year the Rebbe attempts to provide the students with the ability to make literal readings of the Talmud and the basic commentaries appearing with the Talmudic text (Rashi and Tosafos). The student should be able to analyze a page of Talmud and recognize what needs to be explained to understand the Talmud and to learn the Rishonim (Earlier Commentators) and Acharonim (Later Commentators) and realize how they are explaining the ideas that are necessary to understand that Talmud. The second goal is that the student should develop an appreciation for a more sophisticated (Lumdish) explanation to the questions being asked, and not settle for a more superficial (Ba'al Batish) answer to the questions.

LEVEL TWO

In this level, the students being dealing with other main Sugyas (areas of concentration of a topic) in the Talmud. In addition, there are now multiple solutions to questions raised in the study of the Talmud, and each solution is followed through to see the nuanced differences in each solution. The goals here are to broaden the student's mind in comprehending the interactions between the different Sugyos in the Talmud, and to be able to follow the multiple solutions to questions raised in the the Sugya.

LEVEL THREE

In this level the Rebbe begins preparing the student for learning independently. The shiur is designed to organize the complexities in the Sugya, and to break down the Sugya into its component parts so that the student can see how each part interacts with one another. Another goal is to make them aware of the unstated assumptions the Sugya makes and to challenge those assumptions.

LEVEL FOUR

In level four, the student is taught how to develop a Sugya. To identify the main issues and clarify how each Rishon (Earlier Commentator) deals with each of those issues. The student is shown how the Rishon is consistent with his approach and all the pieces fall into place. Further, the student is made to grasp the fundamental differences that each Rishon had in starting the Sugya, and how it causes each Rishon to have his own solution that he will take consistently throughout the entire Sugya. The multiple comments, questions and answers of a Rishon on a given Sugya are now not just a bunch of random ideas, but a continuous and interlocking logic. Thus, because of this continuous and interlocking logic, each Rishon has his own answers that could not be used to answer the other Rishon's questions.

AFTERNOON CURRICULUM – TALMUD SURVEY AND TALMUD ANALYSIS COURSES

The goal of the afternoon learning session is to provide the student with a broader grasp of the Talmud, covering more topics than the Intensive course in Talmud could. This course is called Talmud Survey. A secondary goal of this course is to help foster the students' independence in Talmudic Studies. Faculty members are available for questions and insights into the material that is being studied. Evaluation in this course is based on attendance and interaction with the various members of the faculty. Each student has the ability to work out with his academic advisor (generally their primary Rebbe) as to the material they should focus on in the afternoon session. In addition, students have the ability to put some of the afternoon session time into the various electives that are offered here at Ner Israel.

EVENING CURRICULUM

There are additional Talmud courses for students during the evening. These courses earn 3 credits per semester and require a minimum of two hours of Bais Medrash study five days a week for the entire semester. In general, students may spend time analyzing different elements of a lecture that they had heard recently. However, many choose from a broad choice of Talmudic sections and topics, or take advantage of the electives that are offered here at Ner Israel.

Students who complete the Ner Israel undergraduate program are able to move seamlessly into the Ner Israel graduate school and enroll in the Rabbinical Ordination program or the Master of Talmudic Law and Doctor of Talmudic Law degree programs. They are also academically prepared to transfer to other Talmudic graduate schools across the country and the world. Many apply, and most are accepted, to the most prestigious specialized Talmudic academies in Israel. These specialized institutions are highly selective in their enrollment and chose from the 'cream of the crop' emanating from dozens of international Talmudic undergraduate schools.

ETHICS CURRICULUM

Ethics is an integral part of the Talmudic Scholar. To this end there is a daily Ethics session after the Afternoon Prayers and weekly discourses in Ethics development and Jewish Philosophy. In addition, many of the elective courses are on topics in Ethics.

ELECTIVES

Ner Israel offers elective courses to broaden the scope of the educational program offered. These courses can allow a student to focus some of his time in an area other than Talmud. In addition, many of these courses will transfer to other colleges and assist students attempting to earn secular degrees.

TEXTBOOKS AND REQUIRED MATERIALS

All required texts can be found in the library and are available at all times for student use. However, students may acquire personal copies if they wish. No other materials are required.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

THE BACHELOR OF TALMUDIC LAW

The Bachelor of Talmudic Law degree is awarded for the completion of 120 credits with the following minimum distribution:

Talmud Intensive	40 credits
Talmud Survey	40 credits
Jewish Philosophy and Ethics	10 credits

Beyond the 90 required credits students can complete additional courses in Talmud or take elective courses.

A candidate for this degree will be required to complete a minimum of 60 credits at Ner Israel. In all cases, the last semester must be completed at this institution.

FREQUENCY OF COURSE OFFERINGS

Students enrolled at Ner Israel take the recommended number of courses offered each term at their grade level and progress toward their degrees in the time frame outlined in the sample curriculum. Course offerings for each semester take into account the needs of the all students, and courses are offered with enough frequency to enable students to graduate within the normal time frames. Not all courses are offered every semester.

EVALUATION AND GRADING

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

The manner in which classes are conducted at Ner Israel makes student participation in class discussions essential. Although attendance at many sessions is taken into consideration when determining grades, it is not recorded on a daily basis. Any pattern of absence is immediately forwarded to the Dean of Men for prompt action. Students must also maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) or better to remain in good standing.

Every attempt is also made to aid weaker students in their studies by giving them special attention and enlisting the help of senior and graduate students.

GRADES AND EXAMINATIONS

Because different courses lend themselves to different evaluation procedures, each instructor has the responsibility of explaining his method of evaluating academic achievement. The grading system followed at the Ner Israel Rabbinical College is based on a combination of criteria. These include an evaluation by instructors of the student's classroom interaction, oral examinations, and written tests. A student can elect to take a class as a P/F where the P would indicate a "Pass" (Denotes a grade of C or above), but this is not commonly used.

The Grade Point Average is calculated by dividing the total number of quality points earned for all courses by the number of credit hours attempted. Credit hours with a grade of Incomplete, Withdrawn without penalty and Pass are not included in the determination of the grade point average, although those hours with a grade of Fail are included.

GRADE APPEALS PROCESS

A student who wishes to appeal a grade that he received must complete an appeal form and submit it to the registrar. He will give the appeal over to a committee of faculty members who will consider all relevant information, i.e., mitigating circumstances such as illness or death in the immediate family or other unusual situations. This committee will then decide whether or not to grant the appeal.

ATTENDANCE

Although formal attendance is not required at Ner Israel, students are expected to attend all classes regularly. Many classes will take attendance into account when determining final grades. In addition, excessive unexcused absences may be grounds for dismissal.

TRANSCRIPTS

The registrar will issue transcripts only upon written request of the student concerned. There is no charge for this service. Transcripts officially transmitted directly to another college or university, or other official institution or agency, receive the seal of Ner Israel.

Transcripts will not be issued if the student is delinquent in any of our rules or responsibilities to Ner Israel (including financial), or if they do not adhere to the Jewish Code of Law.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

All regular students pursuing an approved program at Ner Israel Rabbinical College are required to maintain satisfactory academic progress toward graduation, which, in this institution is defined as being in good academic standing as detailed below. Students are only eligible to receive Title IV federal financial aid as long as they maintain satisfactory academic progress. The satisfactory progress standards for students who receive Title IV federal financial aid are the same as for all regular students enrolled at Ner Israel Rabbinical College.

Satisfactory academic progress at Ner Israel has two principal components: a qualitative standard and a quantitative standard:

QUALITATIVE STANDARD

The student must achieve a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 (the equivalent of a “C” average) or better. Students are evaluated at the end of each semester.

The grading scale used for academic record-keeping and for the calculation of GPA is as follows:

Grade	Points	Description
A	4.0	Superior
A-	3.67
B+	3.33
B	3.0	Very good
B-	2.67
C+	2.33
C	2.0	Good
C-	1.67
D	1.0	Poor
F	0	Failure (also used for withdrawn with penalty)
I		Incomplete
W		Withdrawn Without Penalty

QUANTITATIVE STANDARD

Maximum Timeframe

A full time student must make sufficient progress through the academic program to complete the 120 credits, four-year undergraduate program, within a time period of not more than six years (twelve semesters). which is 150% of the published length.

A part time student must make sufficient progress through the academic program to complete the 120 credit, four-year undergraduate program, within a time period of not more than ten years (thirty semesters), which is 150% of the published length.

PACE OF COMPLETION

Students must successfully complete 67% of their attempted credits per semester, with a maximum attempted credits ceiling of 180 credits. Below are sample charts illustrating how maximum time frame and pace of completion are applied for a full time student. The number of credits an individual student must earn may vary from what is depicted in the chart based on his enrollment schedule.

Sample of a student who attends all three terms (Fall, Spring and Summer):

Years	1			2			3			4			5			6
Semesters	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17
Credits Earned	8	16	22	30	38	44	52	60	66	74	82	88	96	104	110	118	126
Max Credits Attempted	12	24	33	45	57	66	78	90	99	111	123	132	144	156	165	177	189

Sample of a student who attends the Fall and Spring semesters only:

Years	1		2		3		4		5		6
Semesters	1	2	3	4	5	6	8	9	11	12	14	15
Credits Earned	8	16	30	38	50	60	70	80	90	100	110	120
Max Credits Attempted	12	24	45	57	75	90	105	120	135	150	165	180

At the end of each semester, students' academic files are evaluated to determine if the students are making satisfactory academic progress. As part of the evaluation the student's earned credits are divided by the student's attempted credits to determine if the student is progressing through the four-year academic program at a pace sufficient to complete the program within the maximum time frame. If the number of credits earned divided by the number of credits attempted is 67% or greater and the student has earned at least the number of credits that appears in the chart above that corresponds to his semester of attendance, he is determined to be making satisfactory progress.

Ner Israel Rabbinical College requires full time status for undergraduate students. Exceptions may be made, only with formal permission from the Dean.

FINANCIAL AID WARNING AND ACADEMIC PROBATION

If it is determined at the end of a semester that a student is not making satisfactory progress, the student will be given a financial aid warning during which time he maintains financial aid eligibility. The warning period will last for one semester. During the financial aid warning period, the Dean will counsel the student and attempt to improve the student's performance by providing various student services that might include special tutoring, a new study plan or a scheduling accommodation. If after this financial aid warning period satisfactory progress standards are still not met, the student will be notified that he will be terminated from financial aid. He will be notified that he has the option of appealing his lack of satisfactory academic progress. Procedures for filing an appeal are described in the section below. If the student successfully appeals the lack of satisfactory progress after the financial aid warning he will be placed on academic probation for one semester.

The Dean will monitor the student during the period of probation and will devise a study plan to enable the student to improve his academic standing. This may involve conferences with the student and his instructors. If during the probation period the student's academic performance improves and the student's progress is within satisfactory academic progress standards, the probationary status will terminate.

If after the period of probation, the student's academic performance still fails to meet the academic progress standards of the institution, he will be subject to academic discipline which may include expulsion or suspension from the institution, and will be ineligible to receive Title IV federal financial aid.

All decisions with respect to a student's failure to satisfy satisfactory academic progress and subsequent determinations will be documented in the student's academic folder.

APPEALS PROCESS, MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES

A student who wishes to appeal a determination of probationary status, lack of satisfactory progress, or similar issues must submit an appeal in writing to the Dean of Men. The Dean will consider all relevant information, i.e., mitigating circumstances such as illness or death in the immediate family or other unusual situations. The student must also explain how his situation has changed to allow him to make satisfactory progress. The Dean will consult with faculty members as appropriate.

The Dean's decision will be conveyed to the student in writing within ten days of receipt of the student's written appeal.

REINSTATEMENT

When it is determined, by examining his progress for the semester, that a student who was not making satisfactory progress has improved his average and attained sufficient credits to bring his total to the appropriate number for the semesters completed, the student will be notified that he may once again receive aid from Title IV program. The Dean will notify the Financial Aid Office of each student's status at the start of each semester.

To re-establish good standing, students must consult with the Dean of Students, who will design a study plan to assist the student in raising his grades. The Dean of Students will inform the Financial Aid Office when he determines that the student is successfully implementing the study plan. Such notifications will allow the student to again participate in the aid programs until the completion of the semester. Students who do not take advantage of the Dean of Student's program shall continue to have their financial aid eligibility suspended until the time they can establish satisfactory progress.

INCOMPLETES AND WITHDRAWALS

If a student has not completed all required course work, he may have up to six months, at the discretion of the instructor, to complete the work. If it can be determined that, without passing this course, the student will be in compliance with Satisfactory Progress standards, the incomplete will not be considered to affect his average or his satisfactory progress in that interim. If it is determined that, without passing this course the student will not be in compliance with satisfactory progress standards, the student's faculty advisor will meet with the Dean of Men to discuss the situation. If they are able to determine that the student is making efforts in good faith to complete the missing work, they may allow him to retain the status of satisfactory progress in the interim.

Students who withdraw or fail to complete a course will have the course recorded as Withdrawn Without Penalty. This grade will not be counted in the student's GPA. However, the course(s) will be counted towards the student's number of credits attempted.

TRANSFER CREDITS AND SATISFACTORY PROGRESS

Transfer credits are not included in the GPA calculation; however the credits accepted are counted toward both the number of attempted credits and the number of credits earned by the student.

REPETITIONS

A student who fails a course may repeat the course. Upon successful completion of the course, the grade for the failing course will be replaced with the passing grade. In computing the GPA, from the term in which the course is repeated, only the grade for the passed course will be counted. All repeated courses are counted in the number of attempted credits.

ESL/NONCREDIT REMEDIAL COURSES

Ner Israel Rabbinical College does not offer any ESL or non-credit remedial courses.

CHANGE OF MAJOR

Ner Israel Rabbinical College only offers programs leading to a Bachelor of Talmudic Law, Masters of Talmudic Law and a Doctorate of Talmudic Law. Students are automatically assigned a Major in Talmud as no other majors are available. As such, all credits taken at this institution are considered when evaluating whether a student is maintaining Satisfactory Academic Progress.

TRANSFER CREDITS

Credits may be granted, at the discretion, of Ner Israel for courses taken at another postsecondary institution of Talmudic Studies providing the following stipulations are met:

The credits transferred must be based on course work similar in content, style and academic rigor to the one offered at Ner Israel. The student must have achieved a grade that would have enabled him to pass a similar course at Ner Israel. All credits must be properly documented. Transfer credits accepted are counted towards the number of attempted credits and the number of credits earned by the student. It is the student / applicant's responsibility to contact his previous school to have them submit to the registrar an official record of his previous scholastic work for evaluation.

Decisions regarding transfer credits are subject to the same appeals process described above (page 33).

GROUNDS FOR DISMISSAL

Students are expected to keep the hours of Ner Israel Rabbinical College's course and study schedule, and attend all lectures. They must also complete regular oral and/or written exams and maintain satisfactory progress.

Students who fail to adhere to Ner Israel Rabbinical College's regulations, keep the Jewish Code of Law, and/or do not maintain satisfactory academic progress (after being warned about maintaining SAP), may be placed on probation. If improvement is not seen, the Dean will notify the student that he may be dismissed from the school.

Students who persistently violate Ner Israel Rabbinical College's rules of conduct and discipline may also be dismissed from Ner Israel Rabbinical College.

It should be noted that dismissals are extremely rare as every effort is made to accept students of high character and diligence.

COMPLAINT POLICIES

INTERNAL COMPLAINT PROCEDURE:

Any student who has a complaint should submit it in writing to the Dean of Men (rbw@nirc.edu) or to the Yeshiva's mailing address. The complaint will be investigated, and the student will be informed in writing within 10 days of the resolution of his complaint. No person directly involved in the complaint issue will make the final determination of the complaint.

AARTS COMPLAINT PROCEDURE:

Complaints may also be filed with the agency that accredits Ner Israel Rabbinical College, by contacting the Association of Advanced Rabbinical and Talmudic Schools

11 Broadway, Suite 405

STUDENT INFORMATION AND SERVICES

ACCESS TO STUDENT RECORDS (FERPA)

Ner Israel abides by the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA). Pursuant to this act students have the right "to inspect and review any and all official records, files and data directly related to them" and to deny access to others without their written consent except under specified circumstances. All information due the student under this act is available from the Registrar or Financial Aid Administrator in the administration building during normal business hours.

CAMPUS SECURITY

David Friedman is the head of Campus Security and can be reached at all times on his cell 443-803-8596. All suspicious activity should be reported to him. In the event that he cannot be reached, Rabbi Boruch Neuberger is his assistant in this area and can be reached on his cell at 443-604-2425. The Campus Security Report is filed annually in October. Notice is posted to inform the students that it is available all year long in the administration building during normal business hours.

DRUGS AND ALCOHOL POLICY

Illegal drug use and alcohol consumption will not be tolerated under any circumstances (with the exception of minimal amounts of wine for sacramental use).

Ner Israel is committed to maintaining a drug-free campus. Counseling for drug abuse is available to students, faculty and employees through the CounterForce program of Torah Umesorah National Society of Hebrew Day Schools

HEALTH AND MEDICINAL SERVICES

SUMMARY OF CIVIL AND CRIMINAL PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF FEDERAL COPYRIGHT LAWS

Copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner under section 106 of the Copyright Act (Title 17 of the United States Code). These rights include the right to reproduce or distribute a copyrighted work. In the file-sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement. Penalties for copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or “statutory” damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For “willful” infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys’ fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505. Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense. For more information, please see the website of the U.S. Copyright Office at www.copyright.gov.

TEXTBOOK INFORMATION

Ner Yisroel offers a highly specialized program of study in Talmud and related subjects. All textbooks are readily available for use on open stacks in the study hall and school library. Students who wish to purchase their own copies of the texts studied may purchase them from one of the local Judaic bookstores stores in the area. Many students prefer to have their own Gemarah which costs between $20-$50, depending on the publisher and addition, and a Kovetz Miforshim which costs between $25 and $45. Most texts used in the program are reprints of the Talmud and other classical texts that do not have ISBN numbers.

Below is an address of a local Judaica store:

Shabsi's Judaica Center
6830 Reisterstown Road
Baltimore, MD 21215

VOTER REGISTRATION

Voter Registrations forms are available in the main administration building outside the registrar's office. Envelopes are provided with the current mailing address of the Baltimore County Board of Elections

COURSE LISTING

The time-honored method of study of the Talmud is one where the most advanced experts and the beginners all focus on the same material and their understanding of it. Ner Israel's faculty follows this time-honored method and therefore provided the following two tables to help clarify the course numbering system for the Talmud Intensive courses. In the fall and spring semester each course is worth 4 credits (the TD courses). The minimum number of "blatt" (pages in Talmud) to be covered in each semester is 5. This evaluation of credits reflects the perseverance required to focus on the broad range of topics that are covered over these two semesters. Very often some of the study topics in the fall semester are further analyzed in the Spring, requiring additional efforts from the student. The most difficult topics are generally covered in the fall and spring semesters. In the summer the courses are worth 3 credits (the TS courses). The minimum number of "blatt" (pages in Talmud) to be covered in a summer semester is 4. Although the focus of learning is similar in the summer, the timeframe that allows for analytical development is shorter. In addition, a different growth opportunity exists as the student can achieve a certain personal growth by his attention to his studies, even though a majority of the academic world is on vacation.

Jewish Philosophy, Law, History, Ethics and other electives are offered each semester to complement studies in Talmud. Not all courses are offered every semester.
